M. E. CHURCH HAS SUFFICIENT FUNDS PLEDGED TO LIFT DEBT

Campaign Ended a Few Days Ago with Enough to Cancel Mortgage

READY FOR CENTENARY DRIVE

The campaign for the cancellation of the debt of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Charleroi, inaugurated about a month ago, is practically finished, with a sufficient amount of money pledged to lift the mortgage, which now hangs over the church property, and leave the congregation free of debt.

All payments to this fund are expected to be in the hands of the church treasurer by the last Sunday of June, the 29th, at which time a celebration will be held, the details of which are now being worked out and which will be announced in due time.

At the inception of this campaign it was intended that the "drive" would be a short one, not more than a week in duration, but it was found impossible to call upon every member of the congregation during that period, hence it was continued until such time as every communicant had an opportunity to take a part in the offering which had for its purpose the lifting of the debt. This was accomplished a few days ago, and in spite of the fact that a campaign was on for the sale of Victory Liberty bonds, the members of the Methodist church responded nobly to the appeals made by the Board of Stewards and Trustees and have pledged a sufficient amount of funds to wipe out the debt against their church.

This leaves the congregation in splendid shape to take up the campaign for the Centenary Fund, which will open on Sunday next and which will continue for one week. The Charleroi church feels confident that it will be able to meet the expectations of the officers in subscribing the quota assigned to it.

BOY INJURED IN COLLISION IS DEAD

Arthur LaRose, of Monessen, the victim of the street car-motorcycle collision in North Charleroi on the evening of May 8th, died at the Charleroi-Monessen hospital on Monday. The young man was so badly injured that at no time was there any great hope for his recovery. He was pinioned under the street car, after being thrown from a side-car attached to a motorcycle and suffered a fractured skull and other injuries.

OFFER IS REFUSED

Greensboro Gas Co. Turns Down Appeal of Mason-town Citizens

GAS IS BECOMING A LUXURY

A delegation of Mason-town citizens waited upon George B. Craig, President of the Greensboro Gas company in Pittsburg, on Thursday of last week, to offer that company 50 cents per thousand for natural gas. Mr. Craig refused, the offer saying: "Gentlemen, there is no use. We can sell more gas now than we can produce. We are selling at 35 cents per thousand, but that price will not last. Within two years the price will probably be 50 cents, 60 cents and upwards. Natural gas is becoming a luxury. The Greensboro company is curtailing its operations rather than expanding. We are withdrawing from certain fields under the act of 1885 rather than spend money in litigation that we need for the drilling of wells. We cannot consider expansion." The Mason-town Gas company, having lost its supply of natural gas recently dissolved, leaving the town without gas. A citizens' meeting appointed a committee to wait upon the Greensboro company and offer up to 50 cents a thousand cubic feet for gas.

EXPENSES HEAVY IN WATER HEARING CASE

At a hearing held before the Public Service Commission in Pittsburg on Thursday last, W. B. D. Ainey, chairman of the Board advised the citizens of South and West Brownsville who had made complaint against the Brownsville Water company, alleging unfair rates, to get together and settle the differences. From the tone of Mr. Ainey's remarks it was evident the complaints had not made a very good case. The expenses of the hearing so far had amounted to $7,000, with more in sight if the controversy is continued. It is likely the case will besetled without any further hearings.

JOHN O. WATSON

Announcement

In announcing my candidacy for the office of County Commissioner, I do so with the full knowledge that the office is one that requires the most scrupulous care and economy in handling the people's money. I believe that my business training and my three years' experience in the office, fit me for a continuation in this line of work.

During my present term, the progressive policies advocated by me in my first campaign have not been fully carried out because the War made it impossible to go on with any program of road construction. With the ending of the conflict, the way is open for a liberal policy of road building in Washington County and I pledge myself to go forward with this work as rapidly as the county's finances will permit.

My record as a private citizen and a public official is an open book and I fear no man's criticism. I wish to assure the taxpayers that, if elected to the office of County Commissioner I will use the same effort and precaution to make my administration satisfactory to the people of Washington County, that has characterized my present term.

Upon this platform and my record while in office, I feel justified in asking your support and influence at the Republican primaries in September.

CANONSBURG THE ATTRACTION

Weather permitting, the baseball season in Charleroi will be opened on Saturday, the 17th inst. At that time Manager Osborne will present his rejuvenated team which will go up against the strong Canonsburg nine, which is reported to be one of the strongest semi-professional organizations in Western Pennsylvania. It had been originally intended to play at Canonsburg on Saturday, but the presence of a carnival in Charleroi next week compelled the switching of dates, Canonsburg to open here and Charleroi going to Canonsburg on the 24th.

On May 30th the local team will go to New Kensington to play the Aluminums, and on the 31st the Aluminums will appear in Charleroi. On the 7th of June the P. J. Sullivan's of Pittsburg will be the attraction, while later in the season the Pittsburg Collegians, which were to have been in Charleroi last Saturday, will appear. It is also likely that Manager Osborne will book a twilight date some evening between the 1st and 7th of June.

The members of the local nine have been out practicing this week, and all of them look to be fit for the coming campaign, which is expected to be one of the most successful in the history of the town.

Special Committee Confers With Mining Interests on Question

BOND ISSUE IN GREATER FAVOR

A committee from Washington county headed by H. R. Campbell, clerk to the County Commissioners and composed of Kerfoot W. Day of Charleroi, Robert R. Hays of Hickory, B. F. Mevey and John L. Stewart of Washington, held a meeting Tuesday afternoon in Pittsburg at the office of the Pittsburg Coal Operators Association, in the Farmers Bank Building. A number of officials of mining corporations interested in Washington county coal were also present, and the object of the meeting was the discussion of the proposed bond issue for Washington county, the proceeds of which would be used in the building and improving of roads in conjunction with the State Highway Department.

The first thing submitted to the coal men, who represent corporations which are large taxpayers in the county, was the necessity for the improvement of the roads and it was unanimously agreed that it must be done. The plans for financing the work was then gone into. The first plan was for borrowing the money directly as needed and repaying it from current revenues as that was possible. The other plan was for a bond issue and at the suggestion of Mr. Campbell the bond issue plan was unanimously approved. The proposed issue will be for $1,000,000 and will be marketed only as needed. The intention is to complete the road work in four years, the work to fit in with the State-wide system of roads planned by the State highway department.

The reason for discussing the proposition with the coal men was, that coal pays about one third of the revenues of the county, and the men who made up the committee representing both the county and the Good Roads Association, a greed that the matter of road improvements and the matter of financing them should be submitted to the coal interests before it went to a special election. The special election will be held on the 17th of June, arrangements for which are now under way.

JOHN O. WATSON

In this issue of The Mail appears the announcement of John O. Watson, of North Charlottesville, who seeks re-election as a member of the Board of County Commissioners of Washington county. This announcement, while not unexpected, is pleasing to the many friends of Mr. Watson, who have approved and commended his course as a Commissioner, and who believe that he should be returned to the position which he has so acceptably filled for the last three and one-half years.

The office of Commissioner is one of the most important in the county, as all expenditures for improvements, the fixing of valuations and the raising of revenues must pass through the hands of the men who are chosen as fiscal officers and whose duty it is to supervise the many details in connection with the finances of the county.

Mr. Watson was elected on a progressive platform four years ago, and while all the measures he advocated and desired could not be carried out, due to war conditions, yet he was responsible for many of the forward movements inaugurated in the county as his record will show, and which he will continue, should he again be chosen for this responsible office.

Mr. Watson is a good roads advocate. He not only believes in the permanent improvement, but likewise in the permanent care of the highways of the county. Through his insistence many important highways of the county are now under contract for repairs, notably the road out Maple Creek which had fallen into a bad condition, as well as the important link between Monongahela and Donora, a brick highway which had been ruined by heavy traffic which it never intended it should bear. Mr. Watson has been equally insistent on the care of roads in other parts of the county—in fact he points to his record as a public official to bear out the statements made in his behalf, as well as his standing and record as a private citizen and a business man in his home community.

He has been faithful in the discharge of the many duties which the office of Commissioner has imposed upon him, and all of these duties have been discharged well. Washington county is a large municipality, requiring the expenditure of large sums of money, but a glance at the annual report of the Controller will show that Mr. Watson has ever had the interests of the tax-payers at heart, and that economy, consistent with good service has been the guiding principle which has directed him in the discharge of his duties.

Washington county tax-payers will make no mistake in returning John O. Watson as a member of the Board of County Commissioners.

KEEPING CHEERFUL

One day, away back in the last century, the classic story runs, a sad-visaged individual called on a famous physician of London and asked for something to cure his chronic melancholy. He looked as if he had never laughed in his life. And yet he told the doctor he could assign no reason for his depression, which he feared might lead to thoughts of suicide.

"On," said the medico. "I know what's the matter with you. You need a little cheering up. That's all. Go and see Grimaldi, the comedian?"

The man shook his head more mournfully than ever. "I am Grimaldi."

Yes. But in another century, one of the most pathetic of the comedians of the world, Grimaldi, was told, "Genuine melancholy may be contagious, but it can be obtained by watching the faces of the capers or make believe. The kings of ancient Egypt were wont to employ court jesters to cheer their melancholy, but the moderns have forgotten that they were so powerful. The real fools were the jesters who imagined that the professional jesters possessed any such magic powers. The fact is, we don't appreciate what is called humor unless we are in fairly cheerful mood to begin with. One practical recipe is to keep busy on our own job and especially in doing something for others. The writings of the cheap school of literature, which had such a vogue a short time ago, and particularly those mortuaries that used to be hung up over desks in business offices about the man with a smile being worth a whole lot of money, don't help much. The word melancholy means literally "black bile." The Greeks knew what they were talking about. Bile, mental or physical, calls for vigorous exercise of mind or body or both. There are times when the most irritating individual on earth is the professional cheerleader. Sometimes he makes one feel that there ought to be a special provision in the criminal code known as "justifiable homicide of cheerleaders-up." Cheerfulness comes from within. It can be cultivated. But it's not likely to grow unless each does the cultivating for himself.

READY FOR WAR

Private William Mansfield of Green Brier, Tenn., says: "Down my way, when folks know a man can fight, they are scared of aggravating him. I suppose it's the same with nations."

This son of old Tennessee is a true philosopher and full of wisdom, says the New York Telegraph. It is so with nations; if one country knows that another can fight—and will fight—it will be scared about aggravating the prepared and belligerent one. America was not prepared for war with Germany or any other country when we went into it with both feet and hands, and came out victorious—we and our allies. But if America had followed the sound and prophetic advice of Colonel Roosevelt and General Leonard Wood there would have been no war probably as far as we were concerned. Had we possessed a big army, trained to the minute, guns, ammunition and other equipment of combat, Germany would never have dared to provoke us. We may have been "too proud to fight," but there was no reason why our pride should have ever prevented us from being ready for a fight if pushed too far. The war came on us anyway, and it took every ounce of energy in America to get ourselves in position where we could do the most good.

Everything's all right that ends right, however, but we never should be found unprepared again. Let our military lights be kept burning from now on, so that if we are ever again threatened by foes, we will be ready to answer.

ENCOURAGING NEWS

Mr. Hoover has announced that the end of his great task of feeding Europe is in sight. The last of the food ships of the Relief Administration will have sailed by July 1, and by the end of August normal conditions of food production in Europe will be restored sufficiently for the nations to take care of themselves by means of what they produce together with what they can purchase in the markets of the world. By the date mentioned the United States will have shipped to Europe more than thirty million tons of food worth about two and a half billion dollars. For part of this vast amount cash has been received for some of it promises to pay, and for some of it nothing will be received although the government will pay the producers and shippers out of its own treasury.

In case of further famine at points during another winter the United States will of course furnish further relief. Meanwhile it is gratifying to know that the worst is over and that in no great while this country will have only itself to care for. The good news is the more welcome because it means that the time is near when those who contend that prices can not come down will no longer be able to point in explanation to the necessity of our supplying the deficit in European food production. With our government free to concentrate on feeding the American people at reasonable cost, prices should come down, gradually at least. If not, there is a noticeable disposition among the people to know the reason why and to accept no explanations that fail to explain.

TURNING THEM BACK

The return of the telegraphs and telephones to private control will be one of the first matters to come before the new Congress, and the sentiment is strongly in favor of removing government control as quickly as possible. Both Democrats and Republicans have been dismayed at the results of the government operation of the wires, and plans for ending the matter are being worked out. Opposition was strong in Congress against permitting the Postoffice Department to take over the wires, but the plea of a war emergency was brought forward, and the approval of Congress gained without members realizing exactly why the action was considered necessary.

It is the general belief now that the management of the wire service by the Government has been seriously detrimental to the project for permanent vesting control of the wires in the Postoffice Department, and the whole matter is now considered as one which will be indefinitely delayed once the wire lines are put back in private hands.

The results of government control of public utilities during the war would seem to justify the belief of a vast number of well posted men that private ownership with just the degree of government supervision that will insure a square deal to both owners and patrons is by far preferable to government ownership or complete government control.—Fourth Estate.

RETURN TO PRIVATE CONTROL

Both the war experiment of government control of public utilities and government enterprises for war production appear to be very near the end of their term. The ocean cable properties have been ordered returned to their owners and the restoration of the telephone and telegraph systems to private hands is promised as soon as Congress can pass the necessary legislation. At the same time it is announced that steps are being taken by the government to dispossess itself as soon as practicable of the great shipbuilding enterprise to Hog Island, which would have been of immense service if the war had gone on with continuing destruction by U-boats but was completed too late for its production to influence the decisive issue on November 11 last. As for the railroads, the President put it up to Congress last December to decide whether government control should continue, or whether there should be a modified government supervision, or whether the railroads should be returned to their owners to be managed under the old system.

Congress did not take the matter up prior to adjournment, but this will probably be done at the extra session and no doubt the whole question of government control will eventually receive careful consideration. Though the open-minded observer will admit that there could be no fair test of the general principle of government control in these hasty war experiments, without previous preparations or careful study, it must be said that the results as a whole have not pleased the majority of the people and that a widespread sentiment in favor of a general return to private control is plainly indicated.

PERSHING LIKES "Y" HOSTELRIES

Inspects Those in Paris and Praises Arrangements for Doughboys' Comfort.

THANKS WOMEN WORKERS.

Without Welfare Agencies' Assistance Soldiers Could Not Afford to Visit Paris.

PARIS, April 25.—One of the principal reasons for the unqualified success achieved by General Pershing as head of the A. E. F. has been his insistence upon everything possible being done for the physical comfort and the moral and mental well being of his men, and his personal attention to details, the carrying out of which were necessary for the success of his program. Many stories are told of General Pershing's inspection tours and the thoroughness with which he has inquired into the welfare of each and every one of the organizations working in the interest of the doughboys. In a recent tour of the Y. M. C. A. hostels in Paris the general stopped to address several hundred men he found in the lobby of the Hotel du Pavillon. Much to the delight of the soldiers themselves who declared afterwards that he had talked to them like a friend instead of a commanding officer.

"I may not have the opportunity of meeting you boys again," he said. "I want you to carry back with you these messages: I appreciate the way you have fought. You have been true soldiers and brave men, and as an army officer I want you to know that my hope is that you will return to America as clean, morally and physically as you came to France. The Y. M. C. A. and other organizations are making that possible by equipping places like this in which you now are, I know that you appreciate the Y. M. C. A. and this room would not be crowded at half-past four in the afternoon. I want you to know that as commanding officer of the American forces I appreciate the work that is being done by the Y. M. C. A. and I hope that when you return to your units you will carry back with you the message of that common appreciation—mine and your own."

During another tour of the Y. M. C. A. eating and sleeping quarters at the French capital he shook hands with and personally commended every American woman worker whom he met at the Palais du Glace, the huge "Y" recreation center and cauteen on the Champ Elysees. The Palais du Glace, he declared, would be very popular with him if he were a soldier on leave in Paris.

General Pershing's inspection of the Y. M. C. A. cauteen, which was unannounced, took up an entire morning and he expressed himself satisfied with the results. At several places he surprised the men at their lunch. At the Palais du Glace, where 25,000 Americans eat daily, the first intimation that the general had of his presence was when the orchestra played "The Star Spangled Banner," and they looked about to find the commander-in-chief of the A. E. F. standing at attention. He interrogated a number of the soldiers about the food and the prices, and exhibited the most minute interest in everything pertaining to their welfare. At the Hotel Rochester, a Y. M. C. A. hostelry on the Boulevard des Capucines, he learned with surprise that any private soldier could get two eggs for his breakfast. This was something that generals frequently had experienced difficulty in doing.

To the American women workers at the Palais du Glace he said, "I want to tell you that I appreciate what the American women are doing over here. It means a great deal to the army to have the right kind of American women here doing the work you are doing. Not only is it good for the soldiers, but for you, too."

BABY SHOW IS NEWEST DIVERSION OF DOUGHBOYS

Paris, April 25.—A show of American babies in a U. S. army camp in France is the latest diversion of the A. E. F. who, always on the lookout for something new, usually find it. Of course it was not a show of real babies, but it was an exhibition of their photographs, as entered by several hundred fond doughboys, each of whom was perfectly sure that his pet infant back in the States was quite the nicest baby in the world. It was the idea of two Y. M. C. A. girls—Miss Mary G. Faxon of Roanoke, Va., and Miss Anna T. Blanton of Nashville, Tenn., who were stationed at Fort St. Mene with the Six Hundred and First Engineers. Every day these two were called upon to admire snapshots of dozens of little Yanks whose pictures had gone through a whole war and were now the chief solace of their soldier fathers and brothers and cousins in the interval of waiting to go home. And the baby show was the result.

It was a magnificent success. The "T" hut was filled with baby pictures dug out of khaki frames and O. D. pockets for the Grand Prix exhibit "Pennsylvania Betty," a niece of Private O. Friday, a trooper from the Keystone State, was awarded the gold medal, the first American baby who ever won such an honor in France.

WAS IN DANGER OF SERIOUS ILLNESS

To Aid Fellow Sufferers Jas. Duffy tells how Ten-Herbs Relieved Him

Little do we realize to what extent a seemingly slight illness might lead to if neglected. Take the case of Mr. James Duffy, of No. 747 Reedsdale street, Pittsburgh, Pa., a boiler-maker by trade, and a well known member of the union. He has a host of friends in that city, having been a police officer in the First ward for a number of years. He states:

"For a number of years I have had catarrh of the stomach and was in constant pain; had shortness of breath, acidity of the stomach, headaches, dizzy spells and severe pains around my heart, caused by gas in my system; I was always constipated, my liver was torpid and sluggish; I could never sleep at night and at times I could scarcely get my breath. I had taken a good many different medicines without any relief until I heard of Ten-Herbs and started to take it. Now I am glad to say I have no more indigestion—have a good appetite, sleep fine and am not constipated. I feel that by taking Ten-Herbs in time I avoided a serious illness as I was gradually getting worse all the time. I can't praise Ten-Herbs enough.

Ten-Herbs, the new herbal stomach liver and kidney remedy, is perhaps doing more to relieve ills of this nature than any other preparation. It is the logical remedy to take, because being made of herbs, roots, barks and berries, it is pure and harmless, and may be taken by old and young. Coming from mother earth, it is nature's own remedy—the kind our forefathers used to take.

Ten-Herbs is sold in Charlottesville at Henning's Drug Store.

POLICE ASKED TO WATCH FOR THIEF

Chief Albright was in receipt of a letter and circular a few days ago from Duluth, calling attention to a man named George L. Durupert or Dumpert, who seems to make a specialty of robbing drug stores. He poses as a Lieutenant in the Medical Corps of the United States Army who had seen service in France. This man usually ingratiates himself with the proprietor of a drug store and after making a pretense of buying manages to rob the safe or cash drawer and get away with the money. In one town in which he pulled his stunt he stole the diploma of one of the physicians of the city, and left for parts unknown. While it is possible this man may never come this way, yet it is well to be on the lookout for all such strangers who endeavor to get away with a slick game, by means of which they temporarily enrich themselves at the expense of their new found friends.

Beginning May 1 all union Barber Shops will open at 8 a. m. and close at 7 p. m. except on Saturdays when they will open at 8 a. m. and close at 9:30 p. m.

10 SUPERVISE CHILDREN ATTENDING THE MOVIES

The Leiby bill prohibiting children from attending moving picture shows during school hours, except under certain conditions, was reported late Monday from the Senate Judiciary General Committee, following a hearing. The bill was sent from Lewistown, where it was said considerable difficulty was experienced in keeping children from "bagging" school to go to the movies. The bill was amended to provide that children between the ages of 8 to 14 years cannot attend the shows unless they have the written consent of their teachers or are accompanied by a parent or another adult. No opposition was offered to the bill at the hearing.

Authorities of North Clairton borough Allegheny county, will be called to account immediately by Dr. Edward Martin, state commissioner of health for their alleged action in refusing to detain men diagnosed as suffering from smallpox. A special investigation is to be made at once, and such steps taken as the law directs.

Lieutenant Colonel John Aiken of the One Hundred and Tenth Infantry according to a correspondent of the Washington Observer now at Camp Dix, will be a candidate for Register of Wills of Washington county. When Col. Aiken returns home he will enter into the details of the campaign to secure the nomination.

Miss Alice McManus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McManus, and George Cotton were married at 8 o'clock this morning at St. Jerome's rectory by Rev. W. D. Fries. The witnesses were Peter Wood and Miss Eva Cotton. They will reside in Charleroi.

An effort is being made to have the returning members of the One Hundred and Tenth Infantry parade in Pittsburgh on their way home. Mayor Babcock and a number of prominent Pittsburgh citizens are in the east for the purpose of having the men agree to the proposal.

It may be possible that some of the returning units from Camp Dix will not reach home before the first of the week. Company A from Monongahela is expected on Saturday, but this is not official. They may be delayed until Sunday or Monday and possibly later.

Among the Charleroi soldier boys to be discharged at Camp Sherman today are George L. Michener, Andrew Houseman and Andrew J. Oates. It is expected that the men from the Fifteenth Engineers will leave for home on Thursday.

Joseph Sailor, who served in Company F, 111th Infantry, Twenty-eighth Division, and who was in France nine months, arrived in Charleroi today and is now at his home, 201 Meadow avenue.

Rev. H. M. Carnahan pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of Monongahela was a Charleroi visitor this morning in the interest of the Centenary fund.

Boy Scouts.
The Boy Scouts will meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the ball park. By order of the Scout Master W. H. Spencer.

Clown and Pantaloon.
According to a little book on symbolism which Lady Glenconner had privately printed for her friends, the harlequinade is of sacred origin: The ordeals through which the harlequin (who is the Unknown) and columbine (the Soul) pass are the tribulations of the spirits in the material phase of existence. The clown represents the world and the pantaloon the body. Possibly, many clowns and pantaloons all over the country are unaware of this.

Maggie Superstitions.
The magpie has a lot of stories connected with his career. What I am going to tell you seems like nonsense, but it is a straight fact. The "mag" of magpie was originally Marguerite or Margaret, simmering down into a nickname, just as a lot of human Margarets are affectionately called "Mag" by their friends. Of the magpie it is said that to see one is a sign of bad luck, two good luck, three death, four a wedding.—Exchange.

Horse Is Deceived.
A horse sees everything about 22 per cent larger than does a man. So that a six-foot man looms up a little short of seven feet six inches high. The fact has, of course, never been proved, but a favorite explanation of the large image in a horse's eye is that if a horse knew man's exact size he would realize his power and pass beyond his control.

EDWARDS HELD FOR UNITED STATES COURT

Charles Edwards of West Brownsville, arrested on a charge of forgery and embezzlement by railroad officer F. W. Jones, was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Paul R. Nutt this morning. As Government property was involved in the alleged speculations of the young man, Justice Nutt sent the case to the United States District Court, before which Edwards will likely be arraigned. The commitment was made out this morning and Officer Jones took Edwards to Pittsburgh this afternoon, where he will begin a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Knox who will determine whether the defendant shall be admitted to bail, or whether he will be held up until the court is ready to hear his case.

Edwards appears to take his arrest very coolly and admits all of the charges brought against him. He told the officers where the checks he had taken from the pay office and to which he had forged the endorsement of the owners, could be found. He says the men who ran the carnival concession encouraged him in the gambling games they were operating but this they deny.

The charges against Sachs and Feuste will be taken up by the Justice at 10 o'clock Friday morning, in the meantime additional investigation being under way to determine their knowledge as to where Edwards got his money.

Edwards is a married man with a wife and one child, and he is not yet 21 years of age.

Hough.

BILL TO PROVIDE LIGHTS ON ALL VEHICLES

The House Committee on Roads on Monday affirmatively reported the Meakle Senate bill providing that lights be placed on all vehicles on the road at night. Some years ago a similar measure was introduced in the House by Assemblyman Bentley from Washington county, but it received but little consideration.

WARNS AGAINST ANTHRAX SPREAD

The Charleroi Board of Health is in receipt of a circular from the Bureau of United States Public Health Service, Treasury Department, calling attention to the fact that the continued appearance of cases of anthrax due to shaving brushes, leads to the belief that suggestions contained in a previous circular issued in 1916 are not being complied with. The letter says that it is therefore evident there are still in trade channels shaving brushes made from material contaminated with anthrax. Health Officer Darby is making a local inspection of shops, but as no cases of this malady has occurred in Charleroi, it is not believed that any infected brushes have ever been used in this locality.

VICTORY HONOR FLAG HAS BEEN RECEIVED

Chairman John D. Berryman this morning received the honor flag issued by the government to all communities which went over the top in the Victory Liberty loan campaign, which closed Saturday night last. The flag is 3x5 in size, having a red border with a white field on which is imposed the initial "V" in blue. The flag will be preserved and likely placed on display at some central point, as a reminder of the fidelity of the people of the community who stood by so faithfully and who assisted in the selling of Liberty bonds.

JUST THE THING FOR OLD FOLKS

So many of us have been looking for something to give our "old folks" that will be all for their good and in no way harmful.

That something has been found. It is Tanlac—Nature's greatest boon to those passing down the hill of life.

That is why it is simply self-destruction to let debility sap away your comfort and health. It is a miserable idea that debility, which is common among both young and old, men and women, will wear itself away. In time it wears its victim away, as it gathers force and nourishes itself upon your very life-blood.

Nervousness, headaches, depression of spirits, lost appetite, backache, listlessness, sleeplessness and that run-down feeling are common symptoms of this trouble and Tanlac acts like magic when it brings back restful sleep, sound digestion, more vitality and drives away that detested, despondent feeling so quickly that it actually astonishes you.

Lewis B. Lee, 80 years old, 1142 S. 52d St., Philadelphia, says: "I have gained in weight, my nerves are stronger and I have a firmer grip on life."

Tanlac is sold here by Frank J. John and Piper's Pharmacy and other leading druggists everywhere.

The Boy Scouts were among "those present" in the closing hours of the Victory campaign and were instrumental in turning many thousands of dollars in the way of bond subscriptions.

Delicate Children Vinol is What They Need

More than eight thousand druggists recommend Vinol because it contains in deliciously palatable form the oldest and most famous reconstructive tonics known to medicine. During the last sixteen years it has brought health and happiness to thousands of puny, ailing, anaemic children.

Middletown, Conn. "I used Vinol for my little girl five years old for a run-down, nervous condition. She was thin, irritable all the time and had no appetite. In a week I noticed an improvement and now she has a good appetite, has gained in flesh and strength and is much pleasanter."—Mrs. C. B. Wilkinson.

Manville, R.I. "The whooping cough, and later the measles left my little boy of eight years with no appetite, thin, frail, delicate and tired all the time. After everything else had failed Vinol gave him a hearty appetite, restored his strength and he is now as well as ever."—Mrs. James H. Hall.

For all run-down, nervous, anaemic conditions, weak women, overworked men, feeble old people and delicate children, there is no remedy like Vinol.
